LIFE OF LEWIS M. DONALD THREATENED AT CALGARY

CALGARY, June 10.—At midnight Tuesday a shot was fired through the window in a room in which Lewis McDonald, president of the Canadian Defenders, was sitting at the rear of the second storey of the club's premises, Seventh avenue, just east of Centre street. Two other shots followed immediately.

McDonald was alone in the room when a crash of glass and a loud bang caused him to duck for cover. Detective Sergeant Joseph Carruthers, who resides near the club, on Eighth avenue, was the first to hear the shot from his rooms.

Five minutes later, at 12.15 o'clock, McDonald called police headquarters. He believed that an attack had been made upon his life.

At an early hour Wednesday morning the police were at a loss to account for the shooting.

Lewis McDonald will be remembered as a former resident of The Pass, where he was active in connection with labor organizations.

BLAIRMORE GOLFERS WIN IN FRIENDLY CONTEST

Some 25 Lethbridge golfers made the journey to Blairstown Sunday to engage in a friendly tournament with the members of the Crows Nest Golf Club, and they went away leaving their scalps with the mountain devot diggers, though the margin was slight. It was a beautiful day, and the fine Blairstown course was thoroughly enjoyed. The course is in better shape than ever, and is now being piped for watering and grass greens, so that, within a year or two, it will be the outstanding course in Southern Alberta.

— PULP AND PAPER PROSPECTS

T. G. Howland, of Minneapolis, who is endeavoring to organize a pulp and paper industry for this district, spent several days in the city this week on business in connection with his project. He reports considerable progress, having secured contracts for close to eighty-five tons a day.

The general depression will react against financing the company at this time, but he is confident of success in spite of the many drawbacks, which have come up from time to time. Mr. Howland left on Thursday for Victoria and Vancouver, where he will take out a charter under the name of The Flathead Pulp & Paper Co., Ltd. He expects to be back in Fernie by June 15th—Fernie Free Press.

GRADUATION OF NURSES IS HELD AT CRANBROOK

On Thursday evening the annual graduation exercises of the nurses completing the training course of St. Eugene hospital, Cranbrook, were held in the auditorium, with a record crowd in attendance. All available standing room was occupied and many were not able to gain admittance. The stage decorated in the class colors of pale blue and ivory, made a delightful setting for the attractive group of graduates, surrounded by other members of the training school and flanked by those who were on the platform to extend congratulations and advice to those receiving diplomas.

The graduates were Miss Nettie Johnson, of Cranbrook; Miss Hazel Campbell, of Nelson; Miss Marion Carr, of Cranbrook; Miss Loora Sears, of Pincher Creek; Miss Frances Foster, of Fort Steele; Miss Margaret Stewart, of Yahk; and Miss Nina Passmore, of Blairstown. Each carried a sheaf of carnations and sweet peas in the class colors. Presentation flowers were carried in and laid before the recipients by a group of the city's most attractive little tots who were quaint and adorable in frilled frocks of the class colors. Diplomas were presented to the graduates by Dr. Green, and their medals by Mrs. F. M. Macpherson.

The opening address was made by F. M. Macpherson, M.L.A. The address of Rev. Father McGuire, O.M.I., chaplain of the hospital, was listened to with great interest.

The concluding speaker, Judge Thompson, extended congratulations and compliments to the seven graduates.

Interspersing the addresses were musical numbers contributed by Cranbrook's premier talent.

Following the singing of the National Anthem, the nurses, speakers and a few favored friends adjourned to the dining room of the nurses' home, where coffee and delicious refreshments were served. Here were presented the banks of flowers received and the graduates opened their other gifts, whose profusion attest to the popularity of these young ladies.

The annual graduation banquet was held in the dining room on the evening prior to the graduating exercises and was a delightfully arranged affair from every standpoint.

"NOT EXACTLY GENTLEMEN"

"Not Exactly Gentlemen" is a fitting title for the central figures of three desperadoes played by McLaglen, Lew Cody and Eddie Gribbon. The concluding speaker, Judge Thompson, extended congratulations and compliments to the seven graduates.

MAY KEEP OUT BRITISH COAL

Montreal, June 9.—In a statement made here, Amedee J. Casey, editor and owner of the American Coal Journal, New York, declared that as a result of the new Canadian tariff on anthracite coal the American labor unions would likely demand a tariff on British coal entering the United States. The tariff might mean, he said, that the American producers would be deprived of their market in Canada and be forced to seek protection from the British product.

Insurance Against Depression

A newspaper published on the Pacific Coast prints the following note received by it from a worker in lumber camps: "You need not worry about me. I have worked many years in the logging camps, saved my earnings. Now, during the depression, I am able to get along on three meals a day and a good place to sleep. I am not afraid of the future. I will vote for the things that make my adopted country a better place to live in."

Commenting on this statement, a magazine writer says it would be difficult to condense the principles of sound economics and good citizenship into smaller space. Let us analyze it a bit.

In the years when work was plentiful this industrious woodman labored and saved, for his common sense told him that fat years and lean years had alternated throughout the known history of man. They did in Egypt in the days of Joseph, when amid the scoffings of the masses he stored up grain, during seven fat years as insurance against the succeeding seven lean years. Ordinary prudence told this Pacific Coast woodman that in storing up from the surplus of the fat years he, too, would be able to meet the deficiency of the lean ones.

This woodman had nothing but his labor to sell, so he sold it at a profit when the market was brisk and saved the profit to provide for his needs when the market should be dead. "And 'depression' finds him living comfortably and free from worry." He can afford to walk in philosophy parks for he has never been compelled to go to work.

And after all, who of us is really different than this woodman? What in the final analysis, has any person to sell but his or her labor? And having sold that labor in times when it is in demand and well paid for, whether in wages or profitable production from farms, or turnover in business, it surely is the same and sensible policy, in fact the duty, of the laborer to "save" against the day when there comes a decline in demand for his services and a resultant decline or stoppage in current income or profit.

Everybody but the wholly improvident and thoughtless insure themselves today against sickness, accident, death and old age. They insure their homes, businesses and belongings against possible loss by fire or other catastrophe. They regard these steps as not only wise, but a duty they owe to themselves and their families. In like manner, is it not the part of wisdom, and a duty, in the fat years of earning power to "save" against the lean years which the whole history of man teaches us will inevitably come?

In all the volumes, and essays, and speeches, and editorials, and articles that have been written or spoken on economic topics, in all the speculations as to causes and cures for the present "depression," can any one find a surer specific than that offered by this hard-headed, straight-thinking woodman? Out of the abundant fat years we must store to bridge the shortage of the lean ones. It is simply the old, classic preventive of Industry and Thrift properly balanced, and whenever it has been applied it has worked.

Civil Service Federation Holds Wages Paid Are Inadequate

Holding that the civil service salaries are inadequate, the Civil Service Federation of Canada, at the opening session of its 14th national convention in Ottawa, considered the report of its executive committee outlining plans for continued efforts to secure more adequate pay throughout the government service. The executive reported active preparation of the case for the service for higher pay to be laid before the Beatty Royal Commission.

Canada's Automobile Output Is Higher

At End Of April Production Showed Substantial Increase

Automobile production shot upward in Canada during April, with a total output of 17,100 cars, the daily average of 573 cars was 37 per cent. higher than in March, although only about one-half the average during April 1930.

The index number of production computed by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, which started the new year at 60 per cent. below normal, was at the end of April only 26 per cent. below normal.

Inter-Provincial Traffic Council

Saskatoon Board Of Trade Votes Opposition To Proposed Plan

Opposition to the proposed provincial traffic council was expressed at an executive meeting of the Saskatoon Board of Trade. The opinion was expressed that it would not be in the best interests of Saskatoon and Saskatchewan to enter into this association.

It was stated that Saskatchewian was in a peculiar position in connection with freight and express rates, and that at present there was a Saskatchewan traffic council which was functioning in a satisfactory manner.

J. H. Stevenson, K.C., said Manitoba and Alberta were in a more comparable situation regarding rates than this province. The one had the rate from Vancouver, while the other had the special rate from the head of the lakes.

He said that owing to the geographical situation of the province, sandwiched between two provinces which enjoyed special facilities, it would militate against Saskatchewan receiving concessions. He said that if a move were made for a reduction in rates for Saskatchewan, the other provinces, if the association were formed, would oppose any concession which would give Saskatchewan any benefit.

He also expressed the opinion that Manitoba and Alberta should proceed to organize traffic councils to operate separately and that joint action could be taken on specific problems where there was common ground.

Winnipeg Building Permits

Winnipeg building permits for the month of April totalled $1,049,350, as compared with $566,150 for April, 1930. The total of building permits for Greater Winnipeg to show an increase of $60,000 over 1930.

It is believed that the Virgin Islands may establish an industry of raising plants used as insecticide materials, which are now imported at high cost from abroad.

Credit Goes To Weir

Has Made It Possible To Retain Federal Tree Nurseries

The federal tree nurseries at Indian Head and Sutherland, Saskatchewan, from where trees have been distributed to prairie farmers free of charge, are to be carried on by the federal government. This service was cut out of the estimates tabled in parliament a few weeks ago, and would have been completely abandoned on July 31, had the government not reconsidered the matter and reversed its decision.

Not an additional dollar is to be voted for their upkeep, but Mr. Weir will cut down on other expenses within his department to obtain the funds necessary for the work. The decision, favorable to the nurseries, was reached only after Mr. Weir had put the matter to Hon. R. Bennett on two occasions. On the first he was refused, on the second he obtained Mr. Bennett's consent. The announcement followed a question put to the government by Hon. W. R. Matherwell.—By Grant Dexter.

Retirement from the position into the upper reaches of the sky, Dr. Auguste Piccard has started compiling his scientific data, while Charles Kipfer, his assistant, took a three-hour climb to recover their balloon from the glacier in which it became entangled.

Dr. Piccard, in conversation with Austrian newspapermen, that the stratosphere, which he claimed to have penetrated in an ascent of more than 50,000 feet, was the only practicable element for long-distance aviation.

"This can be done, however," he said, "only if the cabin is as tight as our gondola was."

Information came to Innsbruck, Austria, from Professor Auguste Piccard and that he and his companion, Charles Kipfer, suffered greatly from thirst during their balloon flight into the stratosphere.

They were forced to scrape the frozen moisture from their breath off the walls of the aluminum cage, the report said, and to melt and drink it.

"The fact that we carried a double supply of oxygen saved our lives," he said. "On landing we found there was left only sufficient for one hour more."

Believes Jazz Age Dying

F. Scott Fitzgerald, the novelist who gave the jazz age its name and "discovered" the flapper, believes that the age of jazz has ended, according to a letter received from him by his publishers, Scribner.

Mr. Stevenson, K.C., said Manitoba and Alberta were in a more comparable situation regarding rates than this province, that the government had made a large sum of money from the sale of the crops.

On a motion of Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, authority was given to the agricultural committee to enquire into this.

New Catapult Tested

With a deafening roar of compressed-air, marks developed 4,000 horsepower, which were utilized to give the ball a mile and a half a second, one of Great Britain's largest bombing planes, weighing almost nine tons, was literally hurled into the air in the space of a few yards at Farnborough Experimental Air Field. The new catapult will enable long-distance planes, heavily laden with bombs, to rise from small aerodromes or from the decks of naval carriers.

Uniform Signs For Europe

Roadside warning signs in all European countries will be uniform if the countries accept the system adopted at the European Conference on Road Traffic which recently met at Geneva. Danger signs will be triangular, stop signs circular, and information signs rectangular. Should all the countries adopt it the change will mean the scrapping of thousands of signs now in use.

Made Interesting Flight

Professor Believes It Will Revolutionize Theories About Stratosphere

The London Daily Express, in a telephone interview with Professor Auguste Piccard, "stratosphere" balloonist, quotes him as saying that the results of his flight "are likely to revolutionize all previous theories concerning the stratosphere."

"The flight proves that the stratosphere is navigable," the Professor is quoted as having said, "and that man with modern technical methods will be able to master its low pressure and its cold."

LOSE FAT THIS WAY

No matter how fat you are or how much you hate to get out and walk a mile or two.

If you will take half a teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning for 30 days—You will feel so good and energized and the fat activity will be great that you will immensely enjoy a daily walk of several miles—and lose weight.

Why will Kruschen Salts make this great change for the better in me—it is because Kruschen Salts is a blend of the six vitalizing salts Nature says your body must have to keep every organ, gland and nerve in the body buoyantly healthy.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in energy—endurance—in animal. Your skin will grow clearer, and your hair will grow thicker and your good health that Kruschen brings.

An old arm chair won't hold you any more. You'll want to be up and doing all the time. You'll sleep better and longer. You'll sleep like a top. You'll lose fat, and probably live five years longer.

To Aid Unemployed

Suggestion Made To Establish Movedable Camps In Each Province

Acting on Bishop Doull's suggestion that the unemployed problem be solved by the Anglican Synod, the Diocese of Kamloops, B.C., after lengthy debate, adopted a resolution to that effect.

Archbishop J. P. Richardson, third member of the Order of Canada and a graduate of Oxford, which asks that "as a means of permanent relief against actual distress amongst the unemployed who are willing to work, that moveable camps be established in several parts of each province; that in the said camps shelter, bed, board and clothing be supplied to those in distress who shall have full control; that all receiving relief be required to work unless physically unable to do so; that in addition to the work to be done in preparation for it may be done by those seeking employment and that all work about the camps be undertaken without detriment to residents and other bodies largely dependent upon it for a livelihood."

It is set out that such camps be purchased at lowest prices in large quantities so that all work done in preparation for it may be done by those seeking employment and that all work about the camps be undertaken by the men.

It was decided to send copies of the resolution to the Dominion and provincial governments, to boards of trade and to other bodies likely to be influential in forming public opinion on this subject.

FUTURE TRADING STAMP FINDS IS HELP TO FARMER

Ottawa, Ont.—The farmer receives a higher price for his grain as a result of the present system of futures trading. This is the chief conclusion of the government commission headed by Sir Joseph Stirling, British economist, whose report was tabled in the House of Commons.

While recommending the retention of futures trading as the best method of adding security to the producer's position, the commission believes public confidence in grain trading would be increased and suspicious of producers abated if a degree of government supervision were employed.

The report deals exhaustively with the many phases of grain trading and follows examination of over 50 witnesses in Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Minneapolis and Chicago. Hearings began on April 13 in Winnipeg, and work of the commission was concluded two weeks later in New York. Besides Sir Joseph Stirling, other members of the commission were Chief Justice J. T. Brown, of Regina, chosen by the prairie governments to represent the farmers, and W. Sanford Evans of Winnipeg, representing the grain trade.

The commission urges caution in giving too great effect to the periods of abnormal fluctuation such as in 1920-21 and 1929-31 and base their conclusions on normal times.

Dealing specifically with the reference to the commission—"to inquire into and report upon what effect, if any, the dealing in grain futures has upon the price received by the producer"—the findings may be summarized as follows:

There is no effect upon the long period major trends of price, which must find their position relative to the price of other commodities in the long run.

Major fluctuations in price from year to year and quarter to quarter are lessened "to make the producer's position more stable and secure."

Minor day to day oscillations are increased, but these tend to level off major fluctuations and benefit the producer. Also gamblers lose money in such a way as to increase the producer's price.

As to the question of the fluctuations, the effect is "less certainly, but with a high degree of probability, to increase the average price received in the long run by the producer, to an一定程度 but appreciable extent."

If Canada were to abandon future trading while the rest of the world retain it, there would be a disadvantage for Canadian wheat "which would definitely fall upon the producer in a lower price."

Willing To Reciprocate

New Zealand Would Negotiate Trade With Canada

Wellington, N.Z.—Prime Minister G. W. Forbes made it clear that New Zealand was still willing to negotiate with Canada regarding inter-dominion trade, but he expressed disappointment with Canada's failure to heed New Zealand's representations regarding the Canadian duties on imported butter.

The prime minister said he hoped Canada would agree to send her minister of trade to New Zealand to negotiate a new trade treaty. New Zealand had been forced to show a strong hand—in placing Canadian imports on the general tariff scale—in view of Canada's "complete failure to listen to representations regarding the buttermilk duty," he said.

Income Tax Changes

Changes With Two Exceptions Based On Next Year's Taxes

Ottawa, Ont.—All the income tax changes brought down in the budget are applicable to next year's taxes based on this year's income, with two exceptions, it was explained by the Department of National Revenue. In the case of the increase in the rate from eight to ten per cent. on the income for corporations and joint stock companies, the additional two per cent. will have to be paid on the returns already in, based on last year's income. The other exception is a tax of two per cent. collected at their source on dividends payable to non-resident shareholders. This comes into force on July 1 next.

Chinese Refugee Suffering

Hankow, China.—Large numbers of refugees seeking to escape roving bands of Communists and bandits in northwestern China are arriving in Hsien province, bringing tales of horror and suffering.

Quebec, June 1.—To join with the Prime Minister and many other distinguished citizens of the Dominion, in the general welcome which has been extended to the "Empress of Britain" on her arrival in Canadian waters, the Governor-General paid a visit to Quebec and attended a dinner held on the vessel on June 3.

Sir Arthur Currie, Hon. H. Hanford MacNider, United States minister to the Dominion, Sir William Clark, British minister, Hon. J. E. Lapointe, Sir Joseph Flavelle, Sir Herbert Holt.

Lord Bessborough, commenting on the initial performance of the "Empress of Britain," said the "Empress" had proved herself mistress of the high seas and had entered the new world by one of the greatest and most spectacular highways.

Itinerary Of Air Pageant

Duty On Magazines

Educational, Religious and Scientific Publications To Be Exempted

Ottawa, Ont.—Officials of the Department of National Revenue will consider each magazine coming into Canada, and decide which shall be exempted from the 15 cents a pound duty which will be imposed under the provisions of the budget. The duty does not come into effect until July 1. The magazines to be exempted as defined by Premier R. B. Bennett will be educational, scientific and religious.

The list prepared by the department will be submitted to the cabinet for final acceptance.

Some magazines coming into Canada weigh over a pound per copy, and, in some cases, the duty will be more than the present cost of the magazine. With magazines totaling several million copies coming in every year, the taxes from this source should be considerable.

To Break Deadlock

Negotiations Being Carried On Between Vatican and Italian State

Rome, Italy.—Recent negotiations to break the deadlock between the Holy See and the Italian state in the present crisis is in progress.

Following the closing of Catholic youth clubs by the Italian Government, it was learned from a good source that conversations are being conducted by Cardinal Gasparri, who signed the Lateran treaty and concordat in 1929 with Premier Mussolini.

DEPORTATION BILL IS OPPOSED BY MINISTER

Ottawa, Ont.—A measure preventing the deportation from Canada of persons who have been resident here more than ten years, was "talked out" in the House of Commons. The bill, which came up on second reading, under the sponsorship of J. S. Woodsorth (Labour, Winnipeg North Centre), may possibly be reached again this session.

From Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Immigration and Colonization came a clear and emphatic statement in opposition to the proposal. The effect of the bill, Mr. Gordon declared, would be to destroy sections of the Immigration Act for the deportation of prohibitory classes, including idiots, imbeciles, insane and feeble-minded persons, diseased persons, people of unsavory character, and other physically or mentally defective.

Dealing with "prohibitory classes," Mr. Gordon remarked that migrants who became mental cases in Canada were not cared for by the Dominion Government, but the burden fell upon the provinces and the municipalities. The provinces of Canada, had expended millions upon millions of dollars for the care of these people.

Mr. Gordon emphasized the deportations were only ordered after the fullest inquiry. Many people of a spendid type had come to Canada who were honest today to this country, but they were gone within our boundaries who, under careful selection and the discipline of immigration, never would have been permitted to come into Canada.

A. A. Heaps (Labor, Winnipeg North), who, in the absence of Mr. Woodsorth, moved the second reading, said it was "most unfair" to deport persons from Canada who had been here for many years.

In recent months many persons, the majority born in Great Britain, had been deported. Some had been here as long as 18 years, had raised families in Canada, and, late in life, becoming ill, had become public charges.

He believed the 10-year limit suggested in the bill was too long and that five years' residence in Canada would be sufficient. Men and women born outside the British Empire might be naturalized in Canada after five years' residence and escape deportation.

"It is more likely that the position of our overseas markets for grain and farm produce will steadily

R. J. Hutchings, Calgary, said the farmers were buckling down to putting in a crop at half the price of late years, due to the cost of seed and other elements. The prairies, he declared, were going to maintain their position of growing the best wheat and supplying it to the world markets.

MAY RETIRE

Grain Shipments For May Were Higher

Larger Quantities Shipped Overseas Than In Previous Month

Port William, Ont.—Canada's hold on foreign wheat markets remained firm through May, the Dominion shipping larger quantities overseas than in any month for more than a year. Clearances during the last week, according to the weekly report on grain movement by E. A. Ursell, statistician to the Dominion Board of Grain Commissioners, amounted to 6,853,553 bushels and swelled the five-week total to 34,180,796 bushels.

Export Market For Butter

Good Market For Butter and Cheese In Great Britain

Montreal, June 1.—Great Britain will have a good butter and cheese export business with Great Britain this year, according to P. W. McLagan, Montreal butter and cheese exporter, who just returned from a visit to the British Isles.

There was a place for Canadian butter in England, he declared, as the market was not overloaded and as long as Canadian prices and quality were right, he thought that there would be steady sales throughout the 1931 season.

WILL FIND A WAY TO BUILD TRANS-CANADA HIGHWAY

Ottawa, Ont.—Before long the government hopes to have a satisfactory solution to the problem of a trans-Canada highway, Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, told the House of Commons. It was too soon, he said, to charge the government with failure to keep its election promises.

Dr. Manion was speaking in the debate on the highway started by J. A. Bradette (Lib., Timmins North) on a motion to go into supply.

Mr. Bradette, nor Hon. Peter Heenan, former Minister of Labor, had been consistent in their attitude towards the highway, said Dr. Manion. When the Liberal Government had come into power it had come before the House urging the government to go into supply towards the construction of highways and both Mr. Heenan and Mr. Bradette had voted against it. They were in no position to accuse the present government of breaking its pledges so early in its term of office.

"I did not accuse you of breaking your pledges," said Mr. Heenan. "I merely asked you to fulfill them."

"The question of the trans-Canada highway is a very big question. It has not yet been overlooked. The government has been forced to consider and we hope before long to have a satisfactory solution."

The record of the Liberal party had been consistent in matters of provincial finance and had established a record of soundness, Dr. Manion said. Mackenzie King, adding it might have resulted in some political losses. When assuming office in 1921, deficits in the treasury were encountered, necessitating economy if the budgets were to be balanced and debt and taxation reduced. In one direction, this was done, namely, by refusing grants and aids to provinces in addition to the subsidies fixed at confederation.

"I am not opposed to subsidies to provinces," said Dr. Manion. "The Liberal party is not. The Liberal leader, 'but I am opposed to the amount of money being voted by this parliament to the provinces in addition to those subsidies.' Such extra grants never were contemplated by the fathers of confederation."

"Where will the end be?" asked Mr. King, as he enumerated the grants paid during the past 10 years to the provinces in addition to the regular subsidies. They were for agricultural instruction, to co-ordinate unemployment offices, to encourage highway construction and technical education, combating disease, relieving unemployment; the old age pension scheme. The total was $57,900,000. During that time, the statutory subsidies paid by the Dominion to the provinces amounted to $159,000,000. "The principle of the old age pension scheme is thoroughly sound. In order to get the scheme in operation, I was prepared at that time to support the principle of grants to the provinces, which, I admit, is unsound."

The time had come, Mr. King repeated, when the federal parliament should vote 100 per cent. of the cost of the pension scheme, and centre administration in Ottawa. In his budget recently, Premier Bennett had continued this "unsound principle" of the federal treasury assuming a portion—75 per cent. of the scheme.

SAY CONFERENCE AT OTTAWA IS TO BE POSTPONED

London, England.—It was believed in well-informed circles in London that the Imperial economic conference in August at Ottawa would be postponed. The conference was intended to continue discussions on Empire economic unity inaugurated at the last Imperial meet.

Reasons for belief that postponement would be announced are listed as pending general elections in Australia, New Zealand's economic crisis, South Africa's "reluctance" to send delegates to Ottawa at the present time, India's own pending round-table conference and an apparent division of opinion in the British government on the question of wheat quotas.

Under the heading "The Doomed Conference," the Conservative Evening Standard declared the attitude of the Liberal Government indicated that the conference would come from the Imperial economic conference if it was held at Ottawa next autumn.

The possibility of closer Imperial economic co-operation depends on Britain's willingness to accept a system of tariffs, the newspaper continued. "Cut that away and there is nothing left. The dearest principle of those who control this government rules out the only possible solution and reduces what discussion there may be at Ottawa to a meaningless exchange of words."

Duty On Anthracite Coal

Revenue of $1,250,000 Is Expected From This Source

Ottawa, Ont.—The duty of 40 cents a ton on anthracite coal announced in the budget would result in a revenue of a million and a quarter dollars if the purchases of this type of coal by the United States continues at the same rate as last year. In the calendar year 1930, Canada bought from the United States 3,325,032 tons of anthracite.

The duty on bituminous coal has been increased from 50 cents to 75 cents a ton. Canada imported 764,568 tons of bituminous coal last year from the United States, but considerably of it came under the drawback which return to importers using coal for smelting purposes 99 cents a ton.

In the last fiscal year Canada imported from the United States 1,168,363 tons of coke free of duty. Under the new tariff this will carry a duty of a dollar per ton.

Plan Flight To Orient

Colonel and Mrs. Lindbergh May Fly To Japan This Summer

New York—Confirmation from Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh that he and Mrs. Lindbergh will fly to Japan and China was obtained by the Associated Press through an authoritative source although the colonel himself was in seclusion.

This source stated Colonel Lindbergh had not yet chosen his definite route and that he had not set a time for the start of the flight. It was said merely the flight will be undertaken "some time this summer."

Advocates Day Of Prayer

Would Set Aside One Day To Pray For Rain In Saskatchewan

Prince Albert, Sask.—One day of prayer for rain should be set aside and observed throughout the province, stated Hon. J. F. Bryant, Minister of Public Works for Saskatchewan, in an address here.

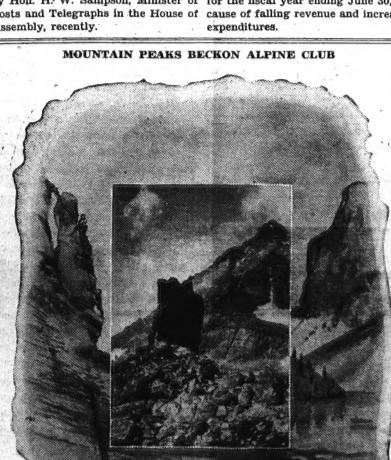

He referred to the great lack of rain in the prairie provinces, especially in the south. Mr. Bryant officially opened the field day of the Shorthorn Breeders' Association of Saskatchewan.

Ottawa Honors King George

Ottawa, Ont.—The capital was in holiday dress June 3 in honor of His Majesty King George, who was celebrating his 60th birthday. Parliament Hill was almost deserted, the House of Commons and the Senate having taken a day off. All government departments were closed, as were also schools and many business establishments. A royal salute of 21 gun-boomed out at 12 o'clock noon.

Butter From Australasia

Ottawa, Ont.—A total of 1,422,512 pounds of butter were imported into Canada from Australasia during the calendar year of 1930 according to a reply given by Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce. In the month of April this year, butter imports from the Commonwealth totalled 168,000 pounds.

Among the mountain peaks that will beckon to Alpine Club campers this summer are the Tower of Babel (right), reflected in beautiful Moraine Lake; the craggy summits above Lake O'Hara, which invite the eagle (left), and picturesque Eagle's Eye (centre), just a step from Prospector's Valley, where camp will be struck. Standing stark against the sun, the Eagle's Eye is startlingly like the king of birds, but fashioned in stone, serves merely to provide shade where mountaineers halt to drink tea.

NEW TARIFF NOT SO GOOD

From all angles it would appear that Fernie will get the worst of the deal from the new tariff which came into effect on Monday. The Crows' Nest Pass Coal Company have been trying to nurse along a little market to the south of the line both for coal and coke, but now that the Government has seen fit to put a further tariff of 25 cents on the first article and $1.00 a ton on coke it would appear that this business will be lost.

Some years ago when coal went across the line duty free, Fernie had a fine business in the United States, when a tax of five cents was put on and we lost the Great Northern business. Now a further 25 cents will doubtless put a bad crimp in the domestic coal market. From our ovens here we have been shipping to the Bunker Hill smelter alone some 2000 tons of coke a month, but what will happen to this order when a dollar a ton is added is not hard to surmise.

The Government have extended the territory further east for the subvention of coal, but while this may in a small way take care of some of the East American business, it cannot be more than a temporary help.

Mayor Douglas and President Man-

man of the Board of Trade, have already forwarded urgent wires to

Ottawa in connection with the matter and we would suggest that an influential delegation be appointed and sent to Ottawa at once to take the matter up directly with the Government—Fernie Free Press.

Dr. J. H. Grisdale

DR. J. H. GRISDALE, B.Agr., D.Sc.A., Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Canada, is chairman of the Conference and Programme Committee of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference and in this capacity is charged with one of the most important phases of the 1932 world-wide event.

Born at St. Marthe, Quebec, in 1870, the son of farming parents, Dr. Grisdale entered the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph in 1886, and was an under-graduate student until 1907. He completed his studies at the Iowa State College and graduated in 1898 as a Bachelor of Agriculture.

Returning to Canada in 1899, Dr. Grisdale was given charge of the important position of agriculturalist at the Central Experiment Farm at Ottawa. In 1911 he became director of the Dominion Experimental Farms.

Practical knowledge of farming, technical training and a keenly analytical mind are the qualifications that make Dr. Grisdale the logical head of the Federal departmental experimental farm branch, the largest system in the world devoted to agricultural practice, investigations and research. While director Dr. Grisdale was called upon to act as Dominion field husbandman from 1911 to 1919 and Dominion botanist from 1917 to 1919.

In 1919, when the position of Deputy Minister of Agriculture for Canada became vacant, Dr. Grisdale was appointed and he has held this position since that time, as well as having been acting commissioner of agriculture.

Dr. Grisdale acted as advisor to the Canadian Government in London, England, in 1922, conferring with the British Ministry of Agriculture regarding regulations incidental to the lifting of the cattle embargo, also as agricultural advisor to the Canadian delegation at the 1923 and 1926 Imperial Conference in England. In 1927 Dr. Grisdale headed the Canadian delegation to the Imperial Research Conference in London, and in 1929 represented the Canadian Government on the Imperial Agricultural Bureau Research Council. He is a member of the Canadian Research Council and joint chairman of the council's committee on tuberculosis, as well as of a committee appointed to study the important question of cereal rust. Dr. Grisdale is a Fellow of the American Genetic Association for the Advancement of Science, of the American Society of Technical Agriculturalists and of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturalists.

Geologists tell us that buried in the wilds of British Columbia is gold enough to pay off the $300,000,000 Dominion bond flotation just issued by Premier Bennett. But why $3,000,000? Perhaps enough bullion lies here to pay off Canada's national debt, back every dollar note, and put us on the road to prosperity—if gold alone can do it.

Unfortunately this particular B.C. soil is alluvial deposit so finely distributed that not even the modern dredges and hydraulics can profitably recover it. Scientists are searching for some method to solve the problem.

This horde of fine elusive gold is situated in the wild Cariboo region of which Barkerville is the centre—Barkerville a ghost-village now, which was a roaring camp of thousands when primeval forest yet covered the site of Vancouver.—Forestburg Herald.

SINGLE UNEMPLOYED

There is a slang expression—"Sweeney, when do we eat?" which might be reitered, when mentioning the plight of the single unemployed.

Evidently a single man, even without a job, or without funds, should not eat, and should develop into a cave-man and learn to eat buffalo chips and wash them down with Red Deer river water. However, they have apparently, in the minds of certain people, no right to any relief, no matter how hard they have tried to get a job, no matter how willing they are to work, or how well they have behaved themselves under the present most trying conditions. Their crime seems to have been that they did not try to make two live on a hole in a dugout, nor deal in the very foolish lovers' arithmetic.—Drumheller. Review.

THE BUSY MAN

If you want to get a favor done,

By some obliging friend,

And want a promise, safe and sure,

On which you may depend,

Don't go to him who always has

Much leisure time to plan,

But if you want your favor done,

Just ask the busy man.

The man with leisure never has

A moment he can spare;

He's always "putting off" until

His friends are in despair.

But he whose every waking hour

Is crowded full of work

Forgets the art of wasting time—

He cannot stop to shirk.

So, when you want a favor done,

And want it right away,

Go to the man who constantly

Works twenty hours a day.

He'll find a moment sure, somewhere,

That has no other use,

And fix you while the idle man

Is framing an excuse. —Anon.

Acting upon the information laid by one Robert Turnbull at Drumheller, warrants were issued for the arrest of acting mayor Allan Hamilton and councillors Lorne C. Jackson, William Kelly, J. W. Webb and Edwin G. Wood, charged with "That, between the 26th day of May, 1931, and the 1st day of June, 1931, and for some time prior thereto at Drumheller in the Province of Alberta, being a Councillor of the City of Drumheller, Allan Hamilton did wilfully omit to make provision for the maintenance or partial maintenance of indigent residents of the City of Drumheller, as required by Section 153 of the Town Act." All were allowed bail set at $2000 each, to appear for hearing on June the 12th. No information was laid against Alderman Joseph McIntyre, as he has consistently voted against the action of the council in turning down requests for relief for single unemployed. Mayor Hanley, who was in Ontario at the time the warrants were issued, will be served with a similar document on his return to Drumheller.

TAMING A SNAKE

(By An Australian.)

There is no doubt that few, if any, people outside Australia have ever heard of how country people in the vast Commonwealth keep snakes as pets; but nevertheless it is quite true, although there is only one species in Australia which can be tamed, this being the carpet snake, which grows from ten to twelve feet in length, is a light grey color, with yellow and white spots under its belly. It is perfectly harmless, and when tamed is of great service to farmer and settler as it, being very fond of rats and mice, will soon free the place from such rodents, being that it will wriggle its way into cracks and crevices under floors, thereby beating a dog or cat hollow in the manner of catching farm pests, no matter where they may be.

The carpet snake has one great weakness—that is, it is over-fond of eggs, and a sharp lookout has to be kept on it if there are any eggs about the place where it has a chance to get at them. I knew a farmer who one day heard quite a lot of cackling going on in one of his fowl houses, and at once went to investigate the trouble. He arrived just in time to see a carpet snake swallowing the last of a clutch of hen eggs, while the old hen stood by in great distress. He quickly despatched the snake, and on opening it up found the whole sitting of eggs in its inside. Not a single egg was damaged whatever—there was not even a crack in them; so replacing them in the nest, the hen went back on them and eventually hatched them out, bringing off a splendid lot of chicks.

A Small World

The world is not so large as it used to be. It's getting smaller every day—in a comparative sense, of course.

During the half century just passed there has been unprecedented development of a great many things, and among the new things have been invented. The railway, the steamship, the aeroplane, the telephone, the telegraph, wireless radio, we service, the linotype, fast presses and a thousand and one others. We have been the means of reducing distances of cutting down the element of time, of making communication among the people of all parts of the world easier. We are frequent, of making the problems of transportation a mere matter of choice. New inventions do things that, even now, seem to be magic.

"Be gone," said one Irish convert, often being shown the wonders of a hospital X-ray apparatus, "What about clothes, art houses if that contraption ever comes into general use? It won't do at all."

But the march of progress proceeds. The horizon widens and the world becomes comparatively smaller. Representatives of forty countries from all the ends of the earth will gather at Regina in 1932 for the annual discussing crop production problems for mutual benefit—a wonderful thing indeed for agriculture, the basic industry of so many people.

Dr. L. M. Estabrook, commissioner of the Federal Department of Agriculture of the United States, is now engaged in promoting a complete co-operation of all the people, but still the world's largest. He is receiving, what a few years ago, could hardly be regarded as impossible, the co-operation of the governments representing 97% of the world's surface, so that there is already assurance for the success of the undertaking.

People in every country are thinking in terms of the world. The horizon is widening and the world itself becomes gradually smaller as the days roll by.

Competition

SOMEBODY said that competition is the life of trade. Maybe it is at that. Anyway, during this period of world-wide depression the people of almost every country are using their best to spell of a sort of competition bogey man. Maybe, too, that this spell is the result of some kind of subconscious attempt to relate unemployment.

Down in the United States they are sitting it out in trees, harassing their soles in dancing marathons and disfiguring their faces in theistic arenas. Over in England, the English are stretching their nerves and risking their lives in flying competitions, while others are swimming in dangerous seas, swimming the channel and paragliding from the clouds.

Canada, too, under the same spell, is holding hell-mell to "keep up with the Joneses." Her big undertaking, the World's Grain Show of 1932, is tempting the competitive spirit of every farmer of every clime by splashing before his eyes the greatest aggregation of cash awards ever offered. Farmers—two hundred dollars for forty pounds of wheat. Humans are flying about over Canada's north land to the eastern hemisphere. But one of the funniest competitions yet reported is that originating in the East, and the stakes are worth while. Listen!

It appears that after an eccentric barrister of Toronto, the Good had passed on to the hereafter before his soul was found to provide for a swash of half a million dollars to his widow. The widow, the mother of the greatest number of children within ten years, Mrs. B., so says the report, at the age of thirty-seven, the mother of twenty children, all born in Canada, was leading for a time. Now another Mrs. B., who is five years older is in the lead for the big money. She has twenty-six children, and credit, five of which have been born since the barrister's death in 1926.

Competition may be the life of trade and incidentally it may be the life of the nation as well.

CORBIN HAPPENINGS

Little two-year-old Gordon Pasiaud had the misfortune to meet with a serious accident on Saturday morning last. He was watching some men loading logs, when one of the logs rolled, pinning his left hand underneath. One finger was taken off and two others badly crushed.

John Kolinski, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Kolinski, who has been attending school at Moose Jaw, returned home last Thursday morning.

Percy Elms, as representative of the Corbin Oddfellows' lodge, left on Friday morning for Vancouver, where he will attend the annual convention. Mrs. Elms also left on Friday as delegate to the Rebekah Assembly of British Columbia.

A. Ford, who has been stationed here for some time, moved his family to C.ribin this week.

The Bellevue baseball team visited Corbin on Sunday and defeated the home squad to the overwhelming score of 23 to 5. The game was mostly noted for glaring errors.

A crowd of eager fans gathered to witness the battle between Fernie footballers and the local team late Sunday afternoon. The first half of the game was very clean, with action around the Fernie goal. Although the goalie was pressed hard, he managed to keep Corbin from scoring by making several clever saves.

At the end of the first half the score was 0-0. After the kick-off for the last half, the onlookers could see that the Fernie boys were determined to take at least one goal home. Our local goalie was tested from time to time, but managed to save the day until five minutes before the end of the game, when Fernie kicked a clean goal.

Corbin boys worked hard to equalize the score, but failed to do so when the final whistle blew. The score at end of second half was 1-0 in favor of Fernie.

COWLEY HAPPENINGS

Several refreshing showers have fallen in this district during the past week. Crops are now looking promising and the pasture land has greened up a lot. Those who were thinking of selling off some of their herds will now have reason to rejoice.

On Sunday evening last, Mr. Sidney Potter, member of the boys' provincial parliament, of Pincher Creek, gave an interesting address in the United church to a large crowd of listeners, when he spoke ably on boys' club work, pointing out the benefits that may be derived from being a member of organizations such as the Trail Rangers and Boy Scouts, whose work in training teaches boys to be manly and thoughtful of others in their early youth.

Mrs. Al. Fink, who has been ailing for several months, has gone to Spokane for treatment.

The Cowley sports committee held a meeting on Tuesday evening, when, in discussing various business matters, attention was again drawn to the question of planting a belt of trees on two sides of the Cowley recreation grounds.

JAMES Leigh, Archie Swart, and Malcolm McMillan are attending the Masonic grand lodge at Edmonton this week, making the round trip by motor.

A meeting of the boys was called on Tuesday evening by Rev. Mr. Horton, for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Trail Rangers.

Girl Guides Meet

Large Representation Attends Annual Gathering Held This Year In Winnipeg

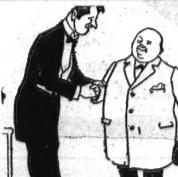

Nearly every branch of the Dominion of Canada was represented at the annual meeting of the Canadian Council of the Girl Guides' Association held at Winnipeg recently. Fifty delegates attended the inaugural ceremony following which reports, presenting a vivid picture of the Girl Guides' activities, were read.

It was indicated that the movement was rapidly gaining strength.

"Girls today are not wild, they are wonderful," Mrs. H. D. Warren, chief commissioner of Girl Guides in Canada, told members of the Women's Canadian Club here.

"I hear many people say that the modern girl is wild," said Mrs. Warren. "She is not. She is honest and speaks her mind openly and frankly, a thing that is charming and genuine. I think the girls of today have in them the making of wonderful citizens."

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

JUNE 14

THE RESURRECTION AND THE ASCENSION

Golden Text: "It is Christ Jesus that died, yea rather, that was raised from the dead; who also maketh intercession for us"—Romans 8:4.

Lesson: Luke 24.

Devotional Reading: 1 Corinthians 15:50-58.

Explanations and Comments

The Interview On the Way To Emmaus, verses 13-31.—On the day of Christ's resurrection, two of His disciples (not apostles) were on their way to Emmaus, a town about six and a half miles from Jerusalem. Disillusioned and disheartened, they were talking over the sad events of the last few days when they came near and walked on with them. But "their eyes were holden that they should not know Him." "Holden" is a word used in the King James Version, meaning "absorbed" or "engrossed." They were absorbed in their sorrow; they were not expecting to see Jesus and Jesus' appearance was evidently different. On April 3, 1930, March 20, 1914, 15; April 24, 1914. Jesus began to question them and to lead them to unbend their troubled hearts. "What comforters are these?" he asked. "Come, sit with me." He asked.

"Would I like my Lord and Master to overhear all my confessions? I would go to Him and tell him of life's misery?" If he were to break in suddenly on some of my talks, and say "What manner of communications can we have with our Lord?" I would sometimes feel! Dare I allow myself, in even an intimate conversation, to utter such an any-blank-and-untruthful-sounding ungenerous remark—which it would cover me with confusion to think He had overheard? Must I not set a seal upon my lips?"—G. H. Knight.

"Dost thou alone sojourn in Jerusalem and not know the things that are done in the world?" they returned in astonishment. "They meant that this itinerant stranger must be very much out of it indeed," said Dan Crawford. "What things?" asked Jesus.

"Eight vital facts tell Him: (1) Of a Jesus the Nazarene which many friends and foes of Saviour of the worst, for 'Nazarene' meant the latter, and 'Jesus' the former. Then (2) they named Him mighty in wisdom and works for His sake sent him with His title. Also (3) all this because it was before His birth, first of all, then all the people afterwards. Now come (4) the facts sent him with His title. He died, but more than Christ died that day; for (5) there died also many a Hebrew hope that it was He who should restore Israel. Finally, though the second (6) he roll up a second stone to His tomb in the dark down-to-zero words. And besides all that, it is now the third day since the three days he had been sent him with His title. Also (7) all this because it ought to be the perfect number, and (8) it is certain without any argument, He died, He also Lazarus (8) a certain of our own company (we did not go, but they did!) went to the sepulcher and found the facts fitted to the words of the prophet."

On approaching Emmaus, Jesus "made as though." He would continue on his way, but did not proceed on His road for had they not been entreated to constrain Him to stay. He would have gone on "Abide with us," they begged; for it is toward evening, the day is far spent. At the evening meal Jesus offered the customary grace before partaking of the food, and then He broke bread. "Behold, a spirit is given to them. Then their eyes were opened and they knew Him. Perhaps the familiar voice, or the smile, or the look, or the breaking of the bread (verse 35) revealed Him to them. At that moment He vanished out of their sight, leaving them with a sense of divine presence. They had seen the risen Christ. And they recalled how their hearts had burned within them as He talked with them on the way.

The Interview. Reported to the Disciples, verses 33-35.—They hastened that very hour to Jerusalem and found the friends dispersed and others who had been there in amazement over the good news which they had heard: "The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared." Then the two in their turn told what had happened on the way to Emmaus and how they had recognized Christ as He supped with them and broke the bread.

Unexpected Results
A little London girl was given a long window, flower box and some packets of seeds by her uncle and told she might sow them, and have her own garden on the nursery window sill. She was also told to water them well. A few months afterwards her uncle came again to see her and asked, "Well, dear, did you sow your seeds?" "Yes, uncle," said the child. "Did you water them well?" "Yes, uncle, very well." "And did anything come up?" "Yes, uncle, a policeman!"

Canada's Forest Land
According to the Forest Service of the Department of the Interior, commercial forests can be divided into 25,000,000 acres of Canada's domain, and that on 182,000 acres the forests are either at present inaccessible or are of value mainly for their ameliorating effect on climate, the control of water flow, prevention of erosion or their scenic attractions.

Romney Marsh, England, has a population of nearly 3,000, has had no reported cases of drunkenness for 12 years.

Social Inertia Allows Disease To Flourish

Many Children Die Needlessly Health Association Is Told

"There is cause and effect at the bottom of every disease, and we should teach people to make health a matter of good management," said Prof. Roy Fraser in his address before the Community Health Association of Greater Toronto, their annual dinner at Hart House.

"If a child dies needlessly, someone tries to solace the parents that it was the will of God—that's blasphemy. It never was the will of God that a child should die.

"These things have to happen," people will say. "They don't have to happen. When people learn that disease is a result of cause and effect, and not a divine act, then you will have courage to go out and conquer it.

"Medical science has gone a long way, but there is no serum for procrastination, and no vaccine for laziness. We must be willing to work."

In speaking of health education in the schools, Prof. Fraser stated that if the curriculum was too heavy to take care of it, it should be unloaded to make room for learning something the children have to know. We ought to know as much about our bodies as we do about a carburetor or a car.

"We need a closer co-operation between those who heal and those who teach. The doctor and the nurse should lead, and everyone else follow."

"I have never heard a medical man make public health a plank in his platform, and yet the national loss through tariffs, financial depression, accidents and heavy taxation is bound to disease due to top them all."

For communities to argue that they had no concern with the health of their people was an foolish as to argue that only those who had a fire should pay for the fire department, and only those robbed should pay for the cost of bringing criminals to justice.

"We are now on an era of preventive measures in the matter of health," the speaker said.

Honor Memory Of Wolfe

Laurie Wreath Placed On Mural Tablet At Bath, England

The memory of General Wolfe was honored at Bath, England, when Frederick F. Poole, president of the Royal Society of British Columbia, placed a laurel wreath on the mural tablet of the beautiful old Georgian house where Wolfe was living when he received his commission to go to Quebec.

The ceremony was followed by the Royal Empire Society Bath branch luncheon, at which Mr. Burden was chief speaker in place of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain, who was called to Geneva.

The ADVENTURES OF CAPTAIN JIMMY and his Dog SCOTTIE

WHAT CAME BEFORE: Captain Jimmy and his dog Scottie were lost in the darkness, while flying over the Chinese Wall. They are captured by bandits and separated from Captain Jimmy makes his escape and plans to search for him.

YES, sir. Just as I crowded the old Chinese interpreter into the car, I had to hide from the bandits. The bandit who was carrying the package, which contained the object, came hurtling past me, and I hid under the coal bin.

"Scottie!" We unfastened the door and there was a grand entrance. "There was no time to lose, and we had to find a hole to hide in.

In the corner of this car were piled a lot of coal, and I crawled into one of the boxes. Up above, I heard the train moving, and the train would move up, because the bandits caught up, we would all right, but it seemed to be waiting on the side of the track, and the train had passed.

"I heard a sound of horns ringing on the rocky railway siding and a score of men running across the bridge. Things looked pretty serious, especially when a Chinese tea chest. Luckily he did not waste."

Something had to be done quickly. I quickly crawled out, and found the Chinese interpreter, Captain Jimmy and Scottie to follow me. We dropped off the train, and the bandits overpowered him, and carried him to the side of the train away from the bandits. I heard the bandits shouting, and the morning light toward the east. Some of their car axions were wondering what was happening along the track. I heard them shouting, "Get off the god-damned god above. Off they went end over end."

Promptly I threw the reverse lever and started the engine. The car was spinning, driving wheels, the car bumped and crashed against one another, and the whistle valve wide open. The whistle shrieked. It was a perfect bedlam let loose.

Panic striking, the bandits rushed to escape. Some jumped out, others simply fell out. But the Chinese interpreter was not on board.

When we moved, gathering speed as we backed down the track for we dared not stop, the bandits followed us. The engine rocked and swayed. I took the wheel and drove the car forward, when suddenly a heavy boot stuck out from under the coal and someone hit me.

What next. Even the coal was alive.

"Maybe I'm a bandit," Captain Jimmy said. "I'm not the boy, but the Chinese anyway."

Where had I heard that? Captain Jimmy's face was like a black mask from the coal dust.

"By Golby!" said Captain Jimmy. "I'm not the boy, but the Chinese anyway."

Thomas W. Fripp, born in Vancouer, was 67 years of age. He had been ill since early winter with bronchial trouble.

Son of an artist father, Thomas Fripp, born in London, England, when he was 10, he came to art early in life. He travelled extensively in Europe and later he became a student at the Royal Academy. He also studied water colors under his distinguished R.A. Father, George Arthur Fripp. R.A. In 1892 he came to Canada and took up residence in British Columbia, living for some time in the wilds of the province, clearing land and farming.

"I couldn't get along without you, Uncle Sim. Here's the letter. You'll call me a goose after you've read it! I'll wash away these tears, and I shan't shed any more, I promise."

Better not make no promises," said Simeon, as he moved toward the stairs. "Nothin' clears the air like a good cry, less it's a thunder storm, and that don't always work, neither."

He went down, and out on the porch, the letter in his hand; but at sight of Halliday, still talking with the children, he crossed the driveway and joined them by the sand pile.

"You got letter from Jamaica?" he questioned.

"Why, no." Halliday was slightly puzzled at the question. "The fact is, Mr. Halliday's my wife is the worst correspondent possible. She usually leaves her letters till the last moment, and then misses the mail; so I've learned not to worry when I don't hear. Did Mrs. Hastings get her letter?"

Simeon nodded assent.

"Is her husband coming soon? I thought she wasn't looking well this morning."

"She ain't," said Simeon. "She's going to see the doctor this afternoon. I don't know all about it, but I think she's just plain scared." He lowered his voice, a cautious eye on the children. "She most—wont—when little Nick was born, and—maybe you've noticed there's another comin'? I wish Nick was to home."

"But surely he'll get back as soon as possible. He wouldn't leave her long at a time like this, or—"

"He don't know a thing about it," broke in the old man quickly. "She didn't want he should know till he come back. He hasn't paid up all the bills for his own sickness, and she thought he'd worry and like as not give up goin' at all if he knew what was looming up ahead. That's why she hurried him off, but she doesn't mind just to give her courage, and—" (Uncle Sim cleared his throat a bit uncomfortably). "Well," he hesitated, "she's got a letter today, and Nick—well, he's gone off a-criticin' in someone's private yacht, along o' your wife. I thought likely you'd hear about the plan."

"With my wife?"

Halliday was all attention. "Yep," answered Uncle Sim. His eyes apparently on the gorgeous yellow bow that adorned small Martha's curly. "He'd about made up his mind to come straight home, when Mis' Halliday blew in with an invitation. I take it some friends o' hers was givin' on to some outlandish places—just the sort o' thing that would set a trap like Nick. I ain't read the letter yet, but I guess he thought he'd rather not lose the chance. He said they'd drop him somewhere along about a month from now, down Cuban way, where he could get back home. Well, all I got to say is, I hope to God he gets here all right. The sooner the better."

His eyes lifted from the yellow ribbon to Halliday's face; but the younger man had glanced away.

"Did you say whose yacht they were to go on?"

"Gay said it belonged to some folks that was visitin' your wife last summer. She didn't mention the name."

Halliday looked thoughtful.

"Have they started yet—left Jamaica, I mean?"

"She says they must h' gone yesterday, or day before."

"It needs him couldn't we send a wireless?"

"We don't know the name o' the yacht. Gay thinks maybe another letter'll come mailed before they go away. This one was written a week ago."

"Then we must wait. I—I'm sorry that Mrs. Halliday was in any way to blame; but I wish Hastings knew the state o' affairs here."

"I wish so too, god darn it! I'd half a mind to tell the boy myself, before he went; but I ain't one meddle, Mr. Halliday; and I thought likely Gay knew her own business. She was thinkin' o' what was best for Nick, I bet she always does. Here comes Uncle Sim again. I bet he's talkin' or that you see he's been cryin' some. She don't cry very often, but she ain't well, and had sort o' made up her mind he'd be here most any time now."

Gay waved to them cheerfully, but sat down on the porch and took up her sewing. Halliday was silent for a moment, then he said quietly: "When is her baby comin', Mr. Bartlett?"

"Not till along the first o' September. Oh, Nick'll be back; only she wants him now, and seems like she ought to have him. Still, the month'll go pretty quick now warmer days have come and she can get about more. It's possible he'll be back in April, or even in May, if he's tryin' to make up for the fierce weather we got last winter. Let me know if you hear anything, Mr. Halliday? Maybe you'll get more definite word than Gay has."

James Halliday doubted, even while he promised to tell Simeon at once should anything enlightening come his way. Angel's letter, written the day Nick's was, but, as usual, too late to catch the boat, arrived four days later in the mail that brought another to Gay. Angel wrote:

Just a line to let you know that I'm off with the Myers on their yacht "Sea Bird". We're to be on for a couple o' months. I can't say exactly where we'll be, but goodness knows where. If you want to know that Nick Hastings was with our party, I'll wire you we last night that I'll be much obliged to you now that you've found another innamorata.

Halliday's brow drew into a puzzled frown; then cleared at the thought that she was referring to small Martha. The note said little more, and he sighed as he laid it down. For years he had scanned Angel's hasty letters eagerly, seeking a word of tenderness that never came. The thing was a habit now. Had ceased to care for tenderness from her; yet the ghost of their dead past still had the power to hurt him. Nick wrote:

Dearest, in an hour we'll be as excited as a kid at his first Christmas. The "Sea Bird" is a beauty—slightly fast, long white paint—brass rails—mahogany trimmings, and all the fixings you read about in fiction. The party consists of Mr. and Mrs. Myers (we'll be last summer); their little girl; a sporty-looking old coon named Nowell (he's picked up at the "Tin Can" dive). Miss Halliday and myself. Honestly, Gay, save for Mrs. H. and the kid, it's not a very congenial-looking crowd. But I shan't mind. It's places, not people I'm after.

Talk about "the ends of the earth!" We're to cruise among the Bahama Islands, the West Indies, Central America, and the South American coast. And that you'll understand, send your letter to Nassau, not Havana. They've decided to drop me there instead, where I can catch the "Mail" for New York. I'll write on hand when the last letter goes. I hope you will have Think what a whale of a lot we'll have to talk about! And how I wish you were going, too!

Five weeks later, on a morning when the sun was wondering if the telegram would come that day, as indeed, she had been wondering for the last week, Sonny appeared at breakfast and handed her the morning paper. She opened it idly, waiting for Uncle Sim to come in from the garden, before she poured his coffee. Sonny ran out to call him, and baby Nick was busy with his oatmeal.

The room was very still. The rustle of the newspaper as Gay spread it over was the only sound, until the babby set up a sort of sing-song that he and Sonny had been chanting for the last week:

"My daddy tumlin' soon—my daddy tumlin'—my daddy tumlin' soon—my daddy—"

The baby stopped; Gay had uttered a little moan that frightened him. She was staring at the paper, reading with bloodshot eyes the words:

"...the British Isles in West Indies and Bahamas. Many small boats go down. United Fruster from Port Antonio makes difficult headway against the storm. No word of the "Sea Bird" is gainin' weight over."

George A. Myer, of Tucson, Arizona, who left Kingston more than a month ago for a cruise among the British Islands, was missing when he picked up at Key West twenty-four hours before the storm.

On board, besides the crew, were Mr. and Mrs. Myer, their ten-year-old son, Charles, and Captain Halliday of Boston. Colonel Charles Nowell of Cincinnati, and Nicholas Hastings.

There was a crash of breaking china, and a howl from little Nick.

When a moment later Uncle Sim and Sonny rushed in, the baby was screaming with fright, while Gay lay unconscious across the table.

Canadian Citizenship

Bill Before Commons Sets Forth Qualifications For Canadian Nationality

Second reading was given in the House of Commons yesterday to the government bill to define Canadian nationality and to provide for loss or renunciation of Canadian nationality. Sponsored by Hon. C. H. Cahan, secretary of state, the bill sets forth definitely the qualifications for Canadian nationality, and also the process whereby a national of Canada may lose or renounce his nationality. Mr. Cahan intimated that the bill, if passed in the form presented to the House, might necessitate some amendments to the Immigration act. As the law now stood, said Mr. Cahan, a man who left Canada for a trip, and was delayed over a year, had to make his way into this country just the same as if he had come from Siberia or Turkistan. Minorities who went abroad to pursue their calling were away a considerable period, and sometimes brought up families in a foreign country, could not claim Canadian nationality for their children.

Improvements To Be Made This Year In Saskatchewan Playground

Ironing out of bad curves on the great highway in Prince Albert National Park, graveling the five miles of road to the Narrows graded last year, oiling the main thoroughfare at Waskesiu Lake, and general maintenance work on the gravelled roads in the park—these are the items decided upon to date in the 1931 program of the National Park system, according to P. Shaw, engineer in charge of the branch's activities in the Saskatchewan playground. A commencement has already been made, a number of miles of highway having been gravelled.

Miller's Worm Powders are complete in themselves. They not only drive worms from the system, but remove the cause of worms, cleanse and so invigorate the constitution that it speedily recovers from the disorders of the digestion that are the result of the work of these parasitic intruders. Then do the work thoroughly and strength and soundness follow their use.

He is Sumanta Chandra Das Gupta, and is 24 years old. Calcutta has 700 fire brigades, and the native brigades are officered by Europeans, but the dusky youth believes there is a future for native officers.

Saskatoon City Council Favors a Get-Together Gathering To Discuss Unemployment

Domestic-wide conference on unemployment, called by federal authorities to consider the present situation and possible remedies, was approved by the city council of Saskatoon. The motion was suggested by Ald. A. M. Eddy.

There was no doubt in his mind, Ald. Eddy said, that such a conference could do much toward overcoming the present situation. Officials of cities and towns throughout the whole of the Dominion were dealing with their local unemployment problems, and many might be in a position to contribute ideas or plans which would work for improvement, he said.

Desirability of a conference to consider the unemployment question was also suggested by Alderman R. M. Pinder. Some solution, he believed, could be worked out. At present the various bodies, including municipal, provincial and Dominion, sat back and kept "passing the buck," without any permanent improvement being effected in the situation.

The Dominion Government will continue to give relief to the municipalities on the one-third basis, according to a letter from Hon. G. D. Robertson, Minister of Labor. At present one-third of the cost of direct relief administered here is provided by the Dominion, one-third by the province and the remainder by the city.

In his letter, the minister stated it was anticipated the intention of completing work programmes now under way. Work unfinished in Saskatchewan totalled 169,249 man days.

Movement On Foot For Establishment Of National Park In Southern Saskatchewan

Definite action will be taken by the tourist committee of the Regina young men's board of trade for the establishment of a national park for the southern part of Saskatchewan. The proposed park will be situated just south of Carlyle in the Carlyle and Fish Lake districts.

A resolution was passed by the young men's body asking that the district be turned into a national park. The resolution will be brought before the council of the board of trade, and if passed by that body, will be sent to the Federal Government and representations made for establishment of the park.

New Species Of Blueberry

A new species of blueberry, from the experimental farm at Ottawa, has been tried out on the Sandilands Forest Reserve just east of Winnipeg. The berry is claimed to be as big as a marble, and soil tests taken from the district show that it should thrive.

German Battleship Slides Down Ways

Before Being Christened

Germany's first "pocket battleship," known as the Erzatz Preussen while under construction at Kiel, launched herself, sliding down the ways six minutes ahead of schedule while Claus von Bülow was at the helm of his launching address and before President von Hindenburg could hunt a champagne bottle from the deck of his ship.

Sixty thousand looked on in astonished silence, forgetting to cheer until just as the bow settled into the water.

"Deutschland be thy name!" President von Hindenburg called after the rapidly receding ship, while the champagne bottle dangled aimlessly in the air since the christening stand for a few seconds and then fell to the ground, unsmashed.

Investigation has not yet determined whether one of the cables holding the bottle intact when it was given the signal to release the last shock to open. Naturally, much uneasiness exists among Kiel sailor folk over what is technically an unchristened ship.
